DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Polnerow et al.(US 6,195,660) in view of Nielsen(US 6,405,243).

Claims 1-3: Polnerow discloses a web server and database connected to web server, receiving information over the Internet from computers of users who register changes in name, address and/or e-mail information stored in the database in (fig.1 and col.5, lines 14-37). Polnerow discloses a firewall server connected between web server and user's computer in (col.3, lines 13-15). Polnerow discloses web server hosting a plurality of web pages for prompting users of a procedure for changing a user's name, address and/or e-mail information at said user's computers in (col.5, lines 25-37 and fig.3). Polnerow discloses generating a personal folder for each user in database in (fig.3 and col.6, lines 24-45; 61-64). Polnerow does not specifically disclose selecting and sending the notice of a change in a user's name, address and/or e-mail information to the parties in notification list. Nielsen discloses selecting and sending the notice of a change in a user's name, address and/or e-mail information to the parties in notification list in (abstract and col.3, lines 49-67; col.4, lines 1-6). It would have been obvious to person of ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to include notification method taught in Nielsen with directory service of Polnerow in order to alert and verify that such change was initiated by the user so that both participants can achieve mutual agreement for such transaction.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim recite "mans for selecting..."mans should be spelled as means . Appropriate correction is required.
